Overview of BrandMaker for Campaign Planning & Execution

It's not your imagination. Marketing has gotten harder. Marketers at large companies today are managing twelve times as many agencies and six times as many projects – but with just one-sixth the time to complete them!

That's why BrandMaker designed a campaign planning and execution solution to streamline project management across multiple geographies, individuals, and agencies with a single, central point of information and direction.

For the first time, you can get on top of your campaigns with the visibility to see what's happening anywhere in the world and the agility to manage it real-time.

That's not a dream. It's what you're in marketing to do.

Our solution is based on the following BrandMaker products

BrandMaker Helps You Unleash Your Marketing Superpowers...

...by accelerating time to market

Planning and execution cycles in marketing continue to get shorter and shorter as companies, and their marketing efforts, seek to respond rapidly to market changes, to reach more specific audiences, over more channels, with a more specific message.

...by managing multi-channel campaigns

The answer to a more complex channel strategy must be a simpler way to manage the campaigns, especially on a global basis when you also have brand and localization complexities. For maximum efficiency and quality, marketers need a system, including real-time reporting, that allows them to be the master of the campaign.

...by implementing workflows without borders

A global marketing organization means intertwined tasks are being accomplished, well, globally, which invites errors, duplication of effort, and inefficiency without a central, coordinated, managed resource that engages the right resources at the right time.

What You Gain

With BrandMaker, global marketers can save time and money while improving effectiveness in running campaigns and other marketing projects across multiple geographies, individuals, and agencies.

- Marketers can increase their agility and efficiency by shortening production cycle times and reducing project cancellations and agency iterations.
- In dynamic marketplaces, marketers can increase their agility and responsiveness by transforming traditional waterfall processes to Kanban agile workflows.
- Marketing operations can be optimized and scaled more easily by imbedding best practices within the system, so they get from managers' heads into the system.

What You Can Do

With BrandMaker you can:

- Align your daily operations with your overall marketing strategy so you avoid wasting resources on non-strategic activities
- Trigger execution processes from the marketing plan to help keep your team focused on the bigger picture
- Divide and conquer your teams tasks by assigning work and maintaining calendars more efficiently than you can by emailing spreadsheets
- Manage team members better with the visibility to filter just the campaigns and activities each is managing.
